

High Quality, Transformational Books

Peacock Proud Press publishes nonfiction books that meet our high-quality writing standards and that transform the lives of our authors and their readers. We know from experience that well-written and well-edited books are more likely to be read. And well-published books give our authors the increased confidence to promote their expertise, their experience, and their message. Our goal is for you to be Peacock Proud of your bestselling book!

Editing Services

Your manuscript must be fully edited and meet our publishing standards before we agree to publish your manuscript. Because the length and quality of book manuscripts vary widely, we quote the price for each round of developmental or copy editing and provide these editing services separately from our publishing packages.

Our goal is to deliver as flawless of a book as possible, so our publishing packages include final proofreading services for any missed typos, misspellings, or formatting issues.

We aim to deliver high quality, bestselling books

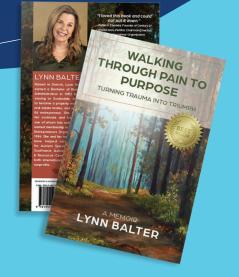

The Peacock Proud Press Publishing Process ensures that you'll be peacock proud of your book!

I am in awe of the Peacock Proud Press team. This book has already completely exceeded any expectations that I've had along the way! I love the cover design—it's perfect. I'm so happy with my book I just keep pinching myself! You guys are rock stars!

—Lynn Balter, Walking Through Pain to Purpose:

Turning Trauma into Triumph

Keep Your Rights and Royalties

Do-It-Yourself publishing often leads to costly mistakes that waste your time and money. As an independent book publishing company, we provide assisted self-publishing services. We do the heavy lifting, so you don't have to. And you keep all rights and royalties to your book.

Marketing and Promoting Your Book

Even great books don't sell themselves. We consult with you on a variety of strategies to promote and market your book, helping to generate an Amazon bestseller ranking and increase your visibility if you do your part. Our designers create a customized cover that grabs readers' attention. You, however, are the best person to promote your book. To maximize your book's success, we count on you to actively engage in online and offline marketing strategies with our guidance. In addition, we encourage you to network and seek out speaking opportunities in front of small or large audiences and organizations compatible with your book. Networking and speaking further establishes your expertise and expands your reach.

Distribution of Your Book

Based on your goals, we guide you to resources for increasing your book's distribution and visibility through different venues, including bookstores, retailers, and libraries, which will not automatically stock your book. We provide step-by-step instructions for all authors to set up an Amazon Kindle Direct Publishing (KDP) account. For the widest distribution possible, in our Platinum Packages, we work with you to set up a Draft2Digital account for eBook distribution and an IngramSpark account that enables bookstores, retailers, and libraries to order your book through the Ingram Catalogue.

The Peacock Proud Press team was perfect to help me get my first book successfully to market. They were knowledgeable and extremely organized—invaluable for someone with no experience. I would recommend them not only for first-time authors across genres, but also for seasoned writers. These guys rock!

interested in your book.

Had I not partnered with Peacock Proud Press, I would have self-published a funny, entertaining manuscript, but missed out on writing a quality book I never dreamed I could complete. Investing in Peacock Proud Press services was a huge investment in myself.

-Rhonda Wilford Eberst, I Survived Pompeii

Dr. Laura Bush's knowledge and expertise in writing and publishing helped me articulate the thoughts I wanted to share with the public. Her sincere support of me as a new author striving to share a difficult experience gave me the confidence to complete my manuscript and publish my book. She and the Peacock Proud Press team are a joy to work with!
